

Young and simple though I am

from Ayres, 1609

Alfonso Ferrabosco II (c.1575-1628) lyrics by Thomas Campion (1567-1620)

G G C Am G D G

Young and sim - ple though I am, I haue
 I am not so soule or faire, to be Faith tis but a fool - ish minde, yet me
 If it be a - las what then, were not Yet nor Churle, nor silk - en Gull, shall my

C Am G C F Dm

heard of Cu - pids name, Guesse I can what thing it proud or to dis - paire, Yet my lips haue oft ob - thinks a heat I finde, Like thirst long - ing that doth Wo - men made for Men? As good tis a thing were maid - en blos - some pull, Who shall not I soone can

A D G A Dm A(no3rd) D Dm Am

is, Men de - sire when they doe kisse, Smoake can seru'd, men that kisse them presse them hard, As glad bide eu - er one my weak - er side, Where they past, that must needes bee done at last, Ros - es tell, who shall would I could as well, This I

G C Am D G C D(no3rd) G

neu - er burne they say, But the flames, But the flames that fol - low may.
 lou - ers vse to doe, when their new, when their new met loues they wooe.
 say my hart doth moue, Ve - nus graunt, Ve - nus graunt it be not Loue.
 that are o - uer - blowne, grow lesse sweet, grow less sweet then fall a - lone.
 know who ere hee be, loue hee must, loue hee must or flat - ter mee.